DETAILED ACTION

1) Acknowledgement is made of Amendment received 5/1/2009.

Claims 2, 4, 5 are amended and new claims 18, 19 are offered for consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2) Claims 1-10, 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by Tsuura (US 2004/0069429).

The applied reference has a common inventor, Yoshimasa Takagi, with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Claims 1, 7, 18-19: Tsuura discloses a process of making a pulp fiber molded article by papermaking steps. Pulp slurry is placed in a mold and force is applied to the pulp mass by pressing resulting in a molded article. The formed article has a sharp edge that has a thick walled part, as for example, shown in Figure 1 (entire document and Figures 1-4).

Claim 2: Tsuura article design is providing an overhang and grooves for mating with another fiber molded article, as in piping section article of Figure 1.

Claim 3: Tsuura method discloses heat being applied to the mold to dry the formed article.

Claim 4: Tsuura method discloses the article being coated with a curing agent. The surface of the article is modified with a fluorine resin [0060].

Claims 5-6: Tsuura method discloses the article bend at mating area with another molded article, as shown in Figure 1.

Claims 8-10: Tsuura discloses using a papermaking mold in the method of making the article. The mold includes a pair of splits that are joined together wherein slurry is placed. The mold is designed to create a thick walled part as shown in the resulting product of Figure 1.

Response to Amendment

3) Claims 2, 4-6 rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is withdrawn in view of amended claims.

4) Applicants' arguments filed 5/1/2009, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants allege that the cited prior art, Tsuura, does not disclose a pulp fiber molded article having joint seams nor thick walled parts.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., a pulp fiber molded article having joint seams) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Tsuura disclose a pulp fiber molded article having thick walled parts, as for example, shown in article in Figure 1.

Conclusion

5) THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
